The goal of TRS is to help develop medical school and residency program faculty so that they can lead or improve transition programs at their own institutions. Attendees should be involved in the development and/or leadership of transition to residency programs.

New for 2020: Transition Course Showdown! This interactive debate session with audience participation will compare differing viewpoints on transition course hot topics such as whether medical schools or residency programs are responsible for readiness. It will also feature a hands-on Cocktails & Simulation session to introduce attendees to educational products available for ob-gyn education. Participants will be given various resources to use at their home institutions.

Intended Learning Objectives:
- Provide attendees with a toolkit for curriculum development, implementation and evaluation of a transition to residency program.
- Assist attendees in utilizing available resources to create a successful transition to residency program.
- Provide a forum for networking, idea sharing and collaboration amongst attendees.
- Provide hands-on experience with educational products available for ob-gyn education.

Course Directors:
Scott Graziano, MD, MS
Laura Hopkins, MD, MSc
Helen Morgan, MD
Celeste Royce, MD

Participating UMEC Faculty:
B. Star Hampton, MD (Chair), Susan Cox, MD, LaTasha Craig, MD, Elise Everett, MD, MSc, Angela Fleming, DO, Margaret McKenzie, MD, MS, Christopher Morosky, MD, MS, Shireen Madani Sims, MD

Register at:
www.apgo.org/2020CAAM