

Educational Topic 38: Endometriosis

Rationale:

Endometriosis may result in pelvic pain, infertility and menstrual dysfunction which can have an adverse effect on the social, educational and economic achievement of girls and women.

Student should be able to:

| Intended Learning Outcomes  | Level of Competence | Instructional Method | Assessment Method          | ACGME Competency | HSS             | Emerging Topics | APGO eResources  | EPA        |
|---|---------------------|----------------------|----------------------------|------------------|-----------------|-----------------|------------------|------------|
| A. Describe theories of pathogenesis of endometriosis   | K                   | AL, DT, IL           | MCQ, OE                    | ICS, MK          |                 | BSR, GE         | BSV, ES, OTC, uW | 7          |
| B. List the most common sites of endometriosis  | K                   | AL, CE, DT, IL       | MCQ, OE                    | MK               |                 |                 | ES, OTC, uW      |            |
| C. Describe the symptoms and physical exam findings in a patient with endometriosis   | KH                  | AL, CE, DT, IL       | MCQ, OE, OSCE              | ICS, MK, PC      | PS              | PM              | ES, OTC, uW      | 1, 2       |
| D. Describe the diagnosis and management options for endometriosis, with consideration of value-based care and an understanding of any social and economic disparities in health outcomes for patients with endometriosis | KH                  | AL, CE, DT, IL, S    | CDR, CP, DO, MCQ, OE, OSCE | ICS, MK, PC, SBP | PH, QI, SD, VBC | PM, RX, SS      | ES, OTC, uW      | 1, 2, 3, 4 |