

BIOS- Project Leadership Team

Maya M. Hammoud, MD, MBA

Title: Professor of Ob Gyn and Learning Health Sciences, University of Michigan

Qualifications: APGO President, Prior Chair of APGO Undergraduate Medical Education Committee (UMEC) and APGO Testing and Self-Assessment Committee; Associate Chair for Education, Director Center for Education, Michigan, Prior Associate and Senior Associate Dean; Consultant for AMA Medical Education Innovation. Counsels students on the residency application process and the Match for over 15 years including 3 years in Qatar for IMG students.

Summary of scholarly work: Developed innovative curricula and assessments including the APGO Prep for Residency Assessment. Published extensively in medical education including the UME to GME transition and faculty development.

David Marzano, MD

Title: Associate Professor Ob Gyn and Learning Health Sciences, University of Michigan

Qualifications: Member APGO Board of Trustees, APGO Prep for Residency Test Assessment Committee, ACOG Simulations Working Group and Vice-Chair of the Education Committee for the Society for Simulation in Healthcare. Residency Program Director at Michigan Medicine and the Director of Simulation for the Department of Ob Gyn.

Summary of scholarly work: Areas of focus include medical education transitions, achieving education milestones, simulation and interdisciplinary teams.

Helen Kang Morgan, MD

Title: Associate Professor of Ob Gyn and Learning Health Sciences, University of Michigan

Qualifications: Co-PI, AMA Change Med Ed Grant (2017-2018), Director of Residency Preparation Courses, Michigan; member APGO UMEC, Co-Director of APGO Transitions to Residency School for Educators; and member CREOG/APGO Wellness Task Force.

Summary of scholarly work: Focus on the medical school to residency transition, resident wellness and diversity in medicine. PI of animated video library of the APGO Medical Student objectives, with over 995,000 views.

Tony Ogburn, MD

Title: Professor and Chair Ob Gyn, University of Texas Rio Grande Valley

Qualifications: Immediate Past Chair of CREOG Council, APGO Board Member, Prior Chief Medical Officer, Residency Program Director, and Assistant Dean of Graduate Medical Education; Member of CREOG Education Committee, ACOG Committee on American Indian Affairs Education Director. As Chair of CREOG led comprehensive revision of Learning Objectives for Ob/Gyn residency.

Summary of scholarly work: Published extensively with an emphasis on family planning, educational evaluation and curriculum development, and improving access to care for underserved populations.

Eric Strand, MD

Title: Associate Professor of Obstetrics and Gynecology, Chief Division of General Ob Gyn, Washington University School of Medicine

Qualifications: American Board of Obstetrics and Gynecology examiner; Residency Program Director for 10 years at both community and university-based programs.

Summary of scholarly work: Focus on factors impacting residency application as well as post-interview communication, evidence-based cesarean delivery, and graduate medical education.

Abigail Ford Winkel, MD, MHPE

Title: Associate Professor, Obstetrics & Gynecology, New York University School of Medicine

Qualifications: Vice Chair for Education and Residency Program Director, Transition to Residency Course Director, Chair CREOG/APGO Physician Wellness Task Force, Member CREOG Education Committee, and member NYU Wellness Executive Steering Committee.

Summary of scholarly work: Developed innovations and published on resident assessment, developmental progress, and transition to residency. Leading scholarly efforts at NYU and nationally on the transition to residency with a focus on assessment and physician wellness.

Mark B. Woodland, MS, MD

Title: Chair & Clinical Professor Ob Gyn, Reading Hospital/Tower Health, Drexel University College of Medicine (DUCOM)

Qualifications: CREOG Chair; initiated CREOG Wellness Work Group and Work Group on Post-Match Curriculum. ACOG representative to Organization of Program Directors Association; active member of Group on Residency Affairs of Association of American Medical Colleges (AAMC). Prior Vice Dean for GME and Ob Gyn Program Director. Invited participant at AAMC Innovations summit for Program Directors and ACGME Innovations Summit.

Summary of scholarly work: Scholarship on physician wellness and satisfaction, sexual health, inter-professional and medical education.

Additional Project Members

Jessica Bienstock, MD, MPH

Title: Professor Ob Gyn, Associate Dean for GME and DIO, Johns Hopkins University Qualifications: Prior Residency Program Director, Chair of ACGME Council of Review Committee Chairs, Immediate past Chair Ob Gyn RRC of ACGME, member ACGME Common Program Requirements Phase 1 and Phase 2 Task Forces. Led the development of Milestones for Ob Gyn, and past-chair of CREOG Education Committee. Lead author of the ACGME Milestones for Ob Gyn.

Susan Cox, MD

Title: Executive Vice Dean for Academics, UT Austin Dell Medical School

Qualifications: PI Kern National Transformation Network, prior clerkship director, program director and ACGME DIO.

Seine Chiang, MD

Title: Professor Ob Gyn, Director of Ob Gyn Specialists Division, University of Washington

Qualifications: Residency Program Director, Associate Medical Director, Roosevelt Women's Health Center.

John L. Dalrymple, MD

Title: Associate Dean for Medical Education QI, Associate Professor Ob Gyn and Reproductive Biology, Harvard Medical School

Qualifications: PI, AMA Accelerating Change in Med Ed Grant; Vice- Chair Faculty Development & Faculty Affairs, BI Deaconess.

David Forstein, DO FACOOG

Title: Dean and Professor of Ob Gyn, Touro College of Osteopathic Medicine

Qualifications: Former Residency Program Director and Vice Chair of Academics; Trustee, ACGME. Co-course director for the APGO Transition to Residency Course for Faculty.

Karen George, MD, MPH

Title: Clinical Associate Professor of Ob Gyn, George Washington University

Qualifications: CREOG Vice Chair, Former Residency Program Director, CREOG Milestones Faculty Development Work Group, Course Director for 4th Year Capstone Course.

Marc Jackson, MD, MBA

Title: Vice President, Education, American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists

Qualifications: Director of MS4 programs in OBGYN at the University of Utah.

Nadine T. Katz, MD

Title: Vice President and Medical Director, Montefiore; Professor Ob Gyn & Women's Health, Einstein

Qualifications: APGO President Elect; Senior Associate Dean for Student Academic Affairs

Carol Major, MD

Title: Professor of Ob Gyn, UC Irvine

Qualifications: Assistant Dean, Office of Diversity and Inclusion, Director of Ob Gyn Medical Education, Chief of Maternal Fetal medicine

Arthur Ollendorff, MD

Title: DIO, Director of Medical Education, Mountain Area Health Education Center

Qualifications: APGO Secretary-Treasurer; APGO Surgical Education Scholars Co-Chair;

Molly Georgakis, CAE, Executive Director, APGO

Gale Mamatova, PMP, Director, CREOG